

To Whom It May Concern:

My husband and I moved into our new home built by Arya Properties in February of 2016. Our process with Arya began in October of 2015. The house we purchased on Longfellow Avenue in Toms River truly became a very happy place for us at that time.

One of the things we instantly liked about this company was that it was local and very accessible. We had a point of contact for all of our questions and problems. We knew we could get answers at any time. Arya as a company was very accommodating with several of the changes that we wanted to make in the home we were purchasing. They also seemed to realize the huge decisions that people go through in building a home and we never felt pressured to do things a certain way. We were also pleased at the unbiased help they offered us when we were just not sure what to do. Let's face it, not everyone has built a home before, you can easily get in over your head with details. Price point was a concern for us, and I feel like we were working with people from the head of the business down to the contractors in our home, who understood this.

My husband and I would also like to specifically mention we were always very pleased with the contractors and workers who were sent to our house. We said repeatedly that "this company knows how to pick the people who work for them." Mike our electrician, Darryl our site manager, Jennifer in the office, just to mention a few. We were just never disappointed with the people who helped us out.

Now that we have been in the house a little over a year, we can still say we are pleased. Even our one year punch list was handled promptly. Would we recommend Arya to our friends- yes, and we already have. Would we build with them again? Yes, but I can't see us leaving this house for a REALLY long time.

Sincerely,

The Oliver Family, Jacqueline, Ryan and Our Girls
